Making Fruit Salad

Christopher worked in the kitchen with Grandpa. An array of fruit lay across the counter. There were blue blueberries, red apples, green grapes, orange oranges, and red strawberries. They were making a fruit salad, and Christopher could hardly wait to taste it! First, they washed all the fruit. Next, they chopped the apples, then they peeled the oranges. Finally, they cut up the strawberries. Christopher added the grapes, and Grandpa added the blueberries. Everything looked delicious, but the grapes seemed a little too hard. Grandpa mentioned they had been picked a little too soon. Christopher frowned.

What if the grapes were not ripe? Would the fruit salad be ruined?

What if the oranges were not ripe? Would the
