

Name : _____

Your or You're?

"Your" is the possessive form of you. It means belonging to you.

Example: Is this your pen?

"You're" is the short(contract) form of you are.

Example: Everyone says that you're very kind and helpful.

Use your or you're to complete each sentence.

1) May I know _____ name, please?

2) _____ c

3) Did Jenny under

4) _____ r

5) May I borrow _____

6) _____ k

7) Wear _____

8) Is this _____ pet dog?

9) Howard told me _____ keen on joining the literary club.

10) Mr. Johnson is happy that _____ practicing the math sums several times.

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com