Sailing Homophones

A Sailor's Sales Pitch

by Liana Mahoney

Pick the homophones from the poem and write them on the boat.

I'll tell you a tale of a tail you might see if you're willing to sail to the unchartered sea.

A sailor once said
that this story's born in the sea's setting
this tail shimmers

And belongs to a
who is fair-faced
and swims beside propelled on the

Son, for boat fare
This tale of a tail is for sale. I will see The full tale can be so it's your tale to
